Time: 2.00pm onwards	Event : Competition
No. of Participants: 200	Event Coordinators: Prof. Anitha BM Dsilva

Objectives of the event:

1. To Create Awareness among the student community-To sensitize students and audiences about issues related to women empowerment, including gender equality, education, health, safety, economic independence, and social justice.
2. To Encourage Creative Expression-To provide a platform for students to express ideas, emotions, and social messages related to women empowerment through dramatization, storytelling, and performance art.
3. To Challenge Stereotypes and Biases-To critically examine and challenge gender stereotypes, discriminatory practices, and societal norms through impactful narratives.
4. To Promote Gender Sensitization on Campus-To strengthen awareness and dialogue on gender equality and women's rights within the academic community.
5. To align the event with national initiatives and global frameworks such as Women Empowerment Programs and UN Sustainable Development Goal 5: Gender Equality.

Brief description of the event:

The Drama Event on Women Empowerment provided a creative platform for students to portray the diverse experiences of women, highlighting their struggles, aspirations, challenges, and achievements across different stages of life. Through powerful performances, students addressed a wide range of themes such as gender inequality, education of the girl child, workplace discrimination, domestic responsibilities, mental health, social expectations, and women's empowerment. The dramatizations combined emotional storytelling with strong social messages, encouraging the audience to reflect on the realities faced by women in society and the importance of equality, dignity, and self-reliance. By using drama as a medium, the event successfully raised awareness, promoted empathy, and reinforced the significance of empowering women through education, opportunity, and social support. The performances showcased students' creativity, teamwork, and social sensitivity while contributing to meaningful dialogue on women's rights and empowerment.
