NADI KO JANO

March 19-26, 2022

Scheme

Research for Resurgence Foundation

Impact

The project was undertaken with an intention to spread the individual responsibilities towards keeping the rivers clean and to know about the river. The video clippings reached around 300 students .The message was successfully communicated.

Nadi Ko Jano was an initiative by the Government of India to spread the awareness on protecting the rivers and gather information about rivers throughout India.

‘Nadi ko Jano’ is an initiative that hopes to achieve this objective. This initiative is in the form of a nation-wide competition organized by the Research for Resurgence Foundation. The competition requires participants – mainly youth – to collect as much information as possible about the rivers they have access to. The information can pertain to cultural, social, ecological, religious and other aspects of the rivers. The App was inaugurated on July 25, 2021 by Hon’ble Education Minister.

Water is the most essential resource that supports life on this planet. It is unimaginable that a vast portion of running water has stagnated due to scarcity of rainfall and due to over population and excess consumption for industrial purpose and thus adding pollutants into main stream.

The project provided opportunity to visit the river banks and understand the challenges faced in order to keep the resources clean. Few photographs and videos were to be taken and with a detailed report the information had to be uploaded in the website <http://rfrfoundation.org/nadi-ko-jano/>

Registration was Done by Coordinator RVIM –CSR A.Chandran and Cordinator ,RVIM Eco Club-Green Crew
