Dr. Anupama Malagi, stressed on the fact that, discipline is of paramount importance in every one's life, we at RVIM strongly advocate and practice the same and motivate, encourage holistic learning.

Even though we do not have any reported cases of ragging, as an anti-ragging initiative we have, display boards containing the contact details of committee members, which have been displayed at prominent places in our institute in the entire floor.

The first year students are oriented about the anti-ragging committee immediately after induction and they have to submit a pledge/undertaking that the student will not involve themselves in ragging directly or indirectly. Previously they had to submit an affidavit in a format prescribed the AICTE, New Delhi.

From the current year onwards, they have to apply on the portal mentioned by the UGC and submit the hardcopy in the college to Administrative Office. The link is as below.
