Subject: Proposals for McGraw Hill Express Library E-books

Dear Sir,

Greetings from McGraw-Hill Education!

With reference to your email, we hereby submit the proposal for McGraw-Hill express library e-books.

Advantages;

1. Flexible purchase options: As most of these titles are e-text books in nature, the revision period of these titles would be around 2-3 years. We are giving you an opportunity of license e-books annually, two years subscription, and three years subscription where you can update editions regularly instead of having single edition perpetually and also save lot of money.

This product would provide anytime access to world class texts that were hitherto available only in print form and were accessible only to the extent of the number of copies available in the institute library. We sincerely believe that, this on-line, first of its kind, e-books of textbooks, would immensely benefit the students of your institute by providing access to these text without the limitation of space and availability, imposed by the printed books.

Looking forward to receiving your order.

Thanking you

Yours Sincerely,

Sagar Betageri P
