Outcome Achieved/ Attained:

- Mr. Maru initially discussed about the basics of fundamental and technical analysis of stock market. And briefly explained about fundamental analysis; Economic analysis, Industry analysis and Company analysis. Most of the cases the fundamental analysis can be used for long term investment.
- Technical analysis which gives the graphical representation and indication of patterns will help an investor to take decision on buying and selling of the stocks. Also explained how to analyze a market technically through different methods. Further with this explained how to take a vital decision of which stock to buy and how to buy and when to sell and how to exist the market.
- Mr. Maru explained about the four pillars of stock market i.e. Analysis, Risk Management Money Management and sizing of positions. These four pillars of stock market help us to make a vital and wise decision of buying and selling of securities in stock market. They explained the concept of co-integration in relation to taking investment decision and reducing risk of the portfolio.
- They showed the live trading platform and explained which stock is good or bad from investor point of view and also they showed the technical analysis through candle stick charts of various companies like HDFC Bank, Bharti Airtel, Maruti Suzuki etc.

- At the end they shown the live trading and explained how to buy and sell stocks through Demat account.

Live Trading Session

Feedback / Coordinators Comment: The program is well received by students, the fundamental and technical analysis and live trading of stock market was the highlight in the program. Taking decision on what time and which stock to choose is the key takeaway form the workshop. The Live Trading Session has helped students to understand how actually trading happens in stock market.
