1 B – SPECIFIC CAUSE IDENTIFIED IN THE NGO

Cause identified: Education

Specific problem: Lack of educational opportunities to the socially deprived children.

CHAPTER 2 – PLAN OF ACTION (Length of the chapter 1-2 pages)

How NGO is addressing these issues

- KALIKA KENDRA (Free Learning Center – FLC)

Abhyudaya is currently reaching out to about 2,000 socially deprived children through more than 100+ Kalika Kendras (Free Learning Center – FLCs) spread around Bengaluru. The Activities at these FLCs in the respective localities are overseen by 135 local teachers and about 25 mentors.

Primary and High school children, majority of whom are from Government schools are engaged for two hours daily at these FLCs after school hours with a view to keep them off the streets. During these hours, the teachers help the children with their homework assignments and aid them to attain the expected academic level for their respective grades. Periodic assignments are done for the kids and their progress is discussed with their respective school teachers and parents.

In addition to the academic activities, children are encouraged / coached to participate in quiz competitions, sports and cultural activities. Counselling sessions are held on personal hygiene and community health for children as well as their parents. Periodic workshops are held to inculcate values, ethics and social responsibilities. Educational and recreational tours are also conducted.

The teachers from these FLCs are regularly upgraded in terms of course content, teaching methodologies and interpersonal skills through monthly workshops. Periodic assessments are conducted to evaluate teachers' progress as well.

- JNANAGIRI

This is an initiative started in 2014 to conduct Free Coaching classes for Grade X (SSLC) students from economically backward sections.

Activities include Personality Development and Career Counselling sessions over the weekends. Each year, more than 250 students are benefiting from this program, some of whom have progressed to professional studies. A handful of these students have become resource persons for the ongoing Jnanagiri activities.

CHAPTER 3 – IMPLEMENTATION REPORT:

CAUSE: EDUCATION

Identification of problem:

Lack of educational opportunities to the deprived students

Problems faced in education by underprivileged children:

- Poverty: Children living in poverty often lack access to basic necessities, including education. They may not have the resources to afford school fees, uniforms, books, and transportation. Additionally, children living in poverty may have to work in order to help support their families, which can prevent them from attending school.
- Lack of Resources: Schools in underdeveloped areas may not have the necessary resources to provide quality education. This includes a shortage of textbooks, a lack of technology and equipment, and inadequate facilities such as classrooms and libraries.
- Inadequate Infrastructure: Schools in rural areas may not have proper infrastructure like electricity, sanitation facilities, and access to clean water, which can make it difficult to provide a safe and comfortable learning environment.
- Discrimination and Inequality: Children from certain ethnic, racial, or religious groups may face discrimination and inequality in terms of access to education. This can include discriminatory policies and practices, as well as cultural and linguistic barriers.
- Lack of Access to Quality Teachers: Schools in underdeveloped areas may not have access to qualified, trained teachers, which can negatively impact the quality of education provided. Additionally, high turnover rates among teachers can also affect the continuity of education.
- Socio-Economic Factors: Children from low-income families may not have the same opportunities for education as those from more affluent families. This includes access to the best schools, extracurricular activities, and other resources that can help support their education.
- Political and Policy Issues: Underfunding of schools and lack of access to education in certain areas can also be caused by political and policy issues. This can include a lack of government support, insufficient funding, or policies that restrict access to education for certain groups of people.

Ways to resolve this issue:

- Building and maintaining schools and other educational facilities in underprivileged communities.
- Providing educational materials and supplies, such as textbooks and school uniforms.
- Offering teacher training and professional development programs.
- Supporting programs that target specific groups, such as girls' education programs or programs for children with disabilities.
- Offering after-school programs and extracurricular activities to supplement formal education.
- Provide scholarships and financial aid to students who may not have the means to pay for their education.
- working with and lobbying government to provide and improve education facilities, policies and teacher training.
- Creating and implementing adult literacy programs and vocational training opportunities.
- Collaborating with other organizations and groups to increase the impact and sustainability of educational efforts.

Actions currently taken by Abhyudaya:

- Kalika kendra (Free Learning Center – FLC)

Abhyudaya is currently reaching out to about 2,000 socially deprived children through more than 100+ Kalika Kendras (Free Learning Center – FLCs) spread around Bengaluru. The Activities at these FLCs in the respective localities are overseen by 135 local teachers and about 25 mentors.

- Jnanagiri

This is an initiative started in 2014 to conduct Free Coaching classes for Grade X (SSLC) students from economically backward sections.

Activities include Personality Development and Career Counseling sessions over the weekends. Each year, more than 250 students are benefiting from this program, some of whom have progressed to professional studies.

- Vidyanidhi:

Vidyanidhi is endeavour to provide financial support to academically bright children from low-income families who would otherwise be forced to drop out of school due to economic constraints. Vidyanidhi is disbursed once a year to cover the costs of school fees, conveyance, uniforms and stationery.

Suggestions:

- Currently Abhyudaya is not able to provide tuition classes during every week days as its completely dependent on volunteers as a teaching staff.
- It can utilise the professional or more experienced teachers for higher classes such as SSLC and can utilise other senior volunteers as teachers for other classes
- In events like Arohana, groups are not properly formed and work is not properly delegated among the volunteers, this leads into some confusion during the event.
- Abhyudaya can utilise its social network in order to create awareness and also can help in providing work opportunities to the students after their education
- They need to organise weekly competition among small children in order to reduce the absenteeism among them.
- And also, should focus on providing career-oriented skills to the PU and undergraduate students

CHAPTER 4 - LEARNING OUTCOMES FROM SIP

- Gained a deeper understanding of social issues and the impact of poverty, inequality, and injustice on communities.
- Developed skills in areas such as project management, and communication.
- Built a network of contacts with other NGOs, government agencies, and other organizations working in the same field.
- Gained experience in cross-cultural communication and working with people from diverse backgrounds.
- Developed leadership and teamwork skills through working in a collaborative and diverse environment.
- Got exposure to different working styles and methodologies, as well as understanding how policies and politics shape decision making, operations and partnerships.
- Gained experience in dealing with complex and multifaceted problems, and understanding the impact of policy on implementation.
- Learn to work in a resource constrained and fast-paced environment.
- satisfaction from making a positive impact on the lives of others and contributing to the public good.
- My work with an NGO has helped me improve my people and teamwork skills as I have the opportunity to work with volunteers and community members to plan and complete tasks together. This has required me to collaborate with others in order to achieve common goals.
- Through my work with an NGO, I have gained a greater understanding and appreciation for diverse cultures and ways of life. This experience has helped me become more culturally aware and open to different perspectives and ways of thinking.

CHAPTER 5 – FUTURE COURSE OF ACTION

1. Aarohana:

- It's a cultural competition conducted for the children of kalika kendra's
- There will be more than 2000 students participating in competitions
- As a volunteer for Abhyudaya foundation I'll be taking part in this event and contribute

2. Social media

- Abhyudaya currently has twitter and facebook, after the completion of social immersion I've given with the responsibility of handling their telegram channel as well as instagram
- I would like to contribute to Abhyudaya by providing digital media support

3. Kalika kendra's

- Kalika kendras are the place where the Abhyudaya provides education to the underprivileged children
- As a volunteer I'm looking forward to teaching the children of Kalika kendras.by helping the children

4. I'll be sharing important information about the important work that the organisation does and the issues it aims to address in order to raise awareness and increase visibility. By spreading the word about the NGO I hope to attract new supporters as well as volunteers.

5. Also promoting the work of the NGO and raising awareness about important issues related to its cause. This may involve speaking at events, participating in media interviews, or using social media to share information about the organisation's work. By serving in this capacity, I will be helping the NGO achieve its goals and make a positive impact in the world.
